These bands qualified for Semi-State status by being one of the top-scoring bands in their enrollment category at their Open Class Regional site on October 12th.

The Open Class Semi-State Festival, administered by the Indiana State School Music Association, Inc. This year will be Indiana's 51st State Marching Band Finals. Since 1973, more than 200,000 students have participated, and more than a million spectators have watched, while some of the finest bands in the country compete to be crowned one of Indiana's State Champion Marching Bands.
